Skills & IT

- Teamwork, communication, interpersonal, analytical and time management skills proven and enhanced via clinical practice, education and other courses and extracurricular activities.
- Proficient in using Microsoft Office applications, the internet and conducting research.
- Social media and web savvy.

Teaching & Training

- While at Addenbrooke's Hospital, I have developed and enhanced my teaching abilities, ranging from teaching House Officers clinical and non-clinical skills to taking medical students through different pathologies. I also participated in teaching junior staff various courses about basic surgical skills.
- As a General/Vascular Surgery Resident in Romania, I was involved in teaching undergraduate students some academic subjects as well as various clinical and surgical skills. On the other hand, while on the wards, I was involved in teaching the nursing staff and 1st year residents X-ray interpretation, venepuncture and cannulation to name a few.
- While at university in Egypt, I was heavily involved in small group learning at university level, where I frequently helped my fellow classmates to learn various academic subjects and practical procedures, especially different knotting techniques.
- These experiences were very valuable in increasing my medical knowledge and my communication and interpersonal skills, while in the process further helped me to appreciate the value of both, learning and teaching.

Personal Interests

- I enjoy reading, horse riding, tennis, swimming, and internet based learning.
- I have a great interest in arts, especially photography, and enjoy writing poetry in three different languages: Arabic, Romanian and English.
- I take pleasure in collecting stamps and coins from all over the world and have a rich collection of both.
- I enjoy travelling and have visited numerous countries in Europe, North America, Asia and the Middle East.
